ComResource's Integration Services: Solving Middleware Challenges

When your business depends on complex integration solutions you can rely on ComResource to deliver successful projects on time and on budget. Whether it's integrating applications from business acquisitions, or adding new partners and transactions from a growing business, your integration needs are constantly changing.

ComResource's Integration Services provide you with knowledgeable and dependable associates to implement any size integration project. Our associates are fully trained professionals who will work with you to understand your business needs and design and implement a solution that is perfect for your business.

Our Approach

We understand your integration challenges. You need to deal with multiple data formats (EDI, XML, delimited, positional, databases) and communicate to your partners via many different protocols. You may want to implement an Enterprise Service Bus or a Message Queue backbone for some application integrations while other interfaces may be direct API's or Web Services. It is hard to keep up with the technology let alone all of the tools available.

Our Integration Services provide you with resources to implement all types of integration projects. We use an Agile Approach to implementations designed to deliver high quality, cost effective solutions, on time, at the price quoted and performed to specifications while being flexible enough to adapt to your needs.
